

The Bird Feeder

"Amish Farm to your Pigeon Loft"

WELCOME TO THE BIRDFEEDER

April showers bring May flowers. But around here they've only brought May showers. (See what I did there? I made a pun to joke about all the rain we've been getting.) That's comedy 101. Thank you, I'll be here all week! Two shows on Saturday.

Rob is Thinking 'Bout...Pellets

For the Pigeon Fancier that likes to feed pellets as the main course or as a supplement, Lizzie Mae's has the pellet for you. Short cut and perfectly sized for pigeons, the Performance Pellet is an 18% Protein Pellet. (There's about seven dirty jokes in this paragraph but I work clean.)

A quick note...

We are now shipping our Pigeon Food products from Maine to Florida to St. Louis to Chicago (not using the same truck) and everywhere in between. All of this is due to you guys referring us to other pigeon fanciers and we truly appreciate your support.

Boring Operational Issues

Memorial Day is just about here. I'll be taking the auxiliary son to the biggest small town parade again this year. If you can, find a small kid and take him or her to a small town parade. Then stand back and be ready to love your country.

No changes on order or delivery for our Midwestern customers.

No change in order day for our East Coast customers but deliveries could be one day later than usual.

GET OUTSIDE WITH YOURSELF

It looks like we'll have a few weeks of nice weather before it gets too hot. Try to go watch a parade and say a thankful prayer for the fallen.
